FINAL: January 1, 2017

Thank you, in advance, for your interest in the North Carolina Maritime Museum in Beaufort.

The North Carolina Maritime Museum in Beaufort reflects coastal life and interprets lighthouses and lifesaving stations, the seafood industry, motorboats, and more. Studies in marine life, science, and ecology are available for all ages. The Beaufort museum is the repository for artifacts from Blackbeard's wrecked flagship, Queen Anne's Revenge, among them cannons, grenades, belt buckles and beads. The Harvey W. Smith Watercraft Center teaches boatbuilding for all ages.

The North Carolina Maritime Museum in Beaufort is open Monday thru Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Free admission to the public. Donations appreciated.

The North Carolina Maritime Museums are part of the North Carolina Department of Natural and Cultural Resources. In addition to the N.C. Maritime Museum in Beaufort, the other two maritime museums include The Graveyard of the Atlantic Museum in Hatteras and the North Carolina Maritime Museum at Southport.

The three North Carolina Maritime Museums preserve and interpret North Carolina's coastal life and history. They paint a picture of the maritime and coastal culture including fishermen, boat builders, decoy carvers and more. They present exhibits of painters and pirates, shipwrecks and sailboats, and about marine life and protection.

We encourage you to "Like" us on Facebook to stay current with our events programs. Additional Programs are added throughout the year. You can find us at www.facebook.com/NCMaritimeMuseumBeaufort.

North Carolina Whales and Whaling Symposium

April 7, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.

This day-long event will include presentations focusing on whales and historic hunting practices. Participants will learn about species of whales that can be found in our coastal waters, how some of these whales were hunted throughout the Atlantic and elsewhere and where some of their skeletal remains have ended up. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. 252.728.7317. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516.
www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com.

A series of monthly lectures take place from November 2017 through November 2018. With the exception of the first lecture on November 4, 2017, the lecture series will be held on the second Saturday of each month, beginning promptly at 2:00 p.m.

The Origin and Early Career of Blackbeard

November 4, 2 p.m.

Who was Blackbeard and how did he become a pirate? Nautical Archeologist David Moore will explain the story behind the rise of Blackbeard. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Blackbeard Celebrates the Holidays

December 9, 2 p.m.

A life at sea marauding and terrorizing doesn't mean pirates did not enjoy the holidays. Learn about this interesting look at pirate customs from Historic Interpreter Christine Brin. This is part of a series of monthly lectures running from November 2017 through November 2018. The first lecture series will be held on the second Saturday of each month, beginning promptly at 2:00 p.m. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Conservation Wednesdays: Blackbeard's Ship, Queen Anne's Revenge

March 1 – December 27, 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Have you ever wondered what happens to the artifacts from the Blackbeard's Queen Anne's Revenge once they are recovered from the bottom of the ocean? The North Carolina Maritime Museum will host a conservator from the Queen Anne's Revenge conservation lab in Greenville from 10 a.m. to Noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Conservators will be available every Wednesday to answer questions about the processes required to conserve the thousands of artifacts that have been recovered from the Queen Anne's Revenge site. Free Admission. North Carolina Maritime Museum in Beaufort, 315 Front Street, Beaufort 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

The popular Brown Bag Gams are popular with visitors and locals alike. Bring a brown bag lunch and learn about North Carolina's rich coastal environment and culture at these informal lectures. The presentations occur between Noon and 1 p.m.

So what is a Gam? gam; n. 1- a school of whales 2- a social visit or friendly conversation, esp. between whalers v. - to visit, esp. while at sea.

Brown Bag Gam: From Lightships to Light Towers

January 5, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Curator Benjamin Wunderly for a talk about lightships and light towers. Shortly after the construction of several coastal lighthouses in North Carolina it was apparent that some locations would require additional warning lights. The dangerous shoals of Diamond, Lookout and Frying Pan proved difficult to navigate for many seafaring captains. Learn about the early attempts to mark these treacherous waters and what has happened to the latest towers. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: North Carolina Dolphins

January 30, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Museum Natural Science Curator Keith Rittmaster for an informal discussion about the biology, behavior, and conservation issues affecting the North Carolina Dolphins. Bottlenose dolphins occur in Beaufort year-round but they're not the same individuals and we're learning a lot from photo-ID and stranding response. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Love at Sea

February 10, Noon

Happy Valentine's Day! For thousands of years' men and women have found love at sea. During this program Christine Brin, Museum Educator, will be sharing some memorable stories of Love at Sea to celebrate Valentine's Day. These stories will include the legend that inspired the 1972 hit song "Brandi" and the tragic love stories of two special couples resting in Beaufort's Old Burying Ground. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Historic Oyster Fishery of North Carolina

February 22, Noon

Unlock the mystery of this amazing bi-valve. Participants will learn about the importance of the oyster, the history of harvesting them in North Carolina and what researchers and conservationists are doing today with Crassostrea virginica, the Eastern Oyster. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Cape Lookout Lighthouse

March 16, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Museum Curator Benjamin Wunderly for an informal discussion about the Cape Lookout Lighthouse. The history of the tower and its predecessor will be covered. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Whales off North Carolina

March 22, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Museum Natural Science Curator Keith Rittmaster for an informal discussion on the many species of whales that travel near our shores. Keith will reveal his studies on the conservation of these endangered marine animals. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Women Pirates

March 24, Noon

Whether through association, partnership, or actually practicing piracy, women were very involved in the world of pirates. This program will focus on the pirates Anne Bonny and Mary Read, as well as look at the supporting roles that women played in the world of piracy. Unfortunately, due to the fact that women pirates were forced to hide their gender, we will never know how many female pirates were active during the Golden Age of pirates, but thanks to women such as Anne Bonny and Mary Read we know they were out there. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Traditional Boatbuilding in North Carolina

April 5, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Curator Benjamin Wunderly for a discussion about traditional boatbuilding in North Carolina. From early Native American dugout canoes to modern fiberglass sport boats, North Carolina's history is one of the richest when it comes to the art of boat building. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516.
www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Early Ferry Crossings in North Carolina

April 26, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Museum Curator Benjamin Wunderly for an informal discussion about crossing the water by ferry on North Carolina's rivers and sounds. Most ferry operations in the state started as private enterprises but eventually became part of the transportation system that helps commerce and communities thrive. From early river ferries that were pulled up stream and let go to the other side to the large Sound Class ferries that traverse the Pamlico, we will give a glimpse into the history of this interesting mode of travel. Gam is defined as a friendly conversation between whalers or to visit with another ship while at sea. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516.
www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: U.S. Life-Saving Service Operations in North Carolina

October 19, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Curator Benjamin Wunderly to learn about the United States Life-Saving Service Operations in North Carolina. Learn about the different stations that existed along the coast and what daily life was like for those in the service. The responding crews of United States Life-Saving Service were often the only hope of survival for shipwrecked victims along the North Carolina coast. The rescues performed by these men were some of the most heroic in our Nation's history. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Sea Monsters

October 31, Noon

Mermaid or Manatee? Leviathan or Sperm Whale? Dragon or Humpback whale? This program will explore some of the best known "sea monsters" and their possible origins in today's known world. At the center of every fish story, myth, or legend is a grain of truth and we will work together to see if we can find that grain. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: Native Americans of Coastal North Carolina, 1718

November 15, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Museum Curator Benjamin Wunderly for an informal presentation on Native Americans of Coastal North Carolina. This lecture will examine the various tribes and cultures that existed in Eastern North Carolina during 1718, the year that Blackbeard lost his ship and ultimately his life. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com. 252.728.7317.

Brown Bag Gam: North Carolina's Coast in 1718

December 6, Noon

Pack a lunch for the Brown Bag Gam during your lunch hour and join Associate Museum Curator Benjamin Wunderly for an informal presentation on what the coastal landscape of North Carolina would have looked like in 1718, the year that Blackbeard lost his ship and ultimately his life. We will examine the coastal inlets and islands that existed to better understand what Blackbeard may have seen during his time. Free Admission. No advance registration. Walk-ins welcome. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516.

Traditional Skiff Regatta

August 5, 9 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Each year during the museum's August traditional skiff sailing event, boaters race around the islands for the Shanghai Trophy. Originally, the Shanghai Trophy was awarded to a winner in the Comet class. The disappearance of Comets from the sound left the cup in limbo, but, after the resurgence of local recreational sailing activity in the late 1950's, it resurfaced and has been awarded to the winner of that class of boats with greatest representation in the race. In the last few years', spritsail skiffs have battled for this historic trophy, which resides in the Web Library. This race starts in front on the Harvey W. Smith Watercraft Center on Taylors Creek at about 9 a.m. Event organized by the Traditional Small Craft Association, The Friends of the NC Maritime Museum Chapter. 252.728.7317. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com.

The Heart of the Sea

February 14, 7 p.m.

Come for a Valentine's Day presentation about our beloved whale Echo (the 33.5-foot long sperm whale skeleton at the Museum) and his heart. Learn about putting together his skeleton and preserving his heart. This presentation covers the story of Bonehenge, a massive volunteer effort that culminated with the skeletal display of a sperm whale and its heart. When the adolescent male whale came ashore at Cape Lookout in 2004, his bones and heart were preserved for study and display. During the process, his heart was sent to the University of Tennessee for plastination. You will have the opportunity to touch and photograph the heart. Free Admission. No advance registration required. Walk-ins welcome. 252.728.7317. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com.

Boatbuilding Past and Present

March 9, 9 – 11 a.m.

This program covers wooden boat building of the past and modern construction methods of today. Participants visit the Harvey W. Smith Watercraft Center where wooden boats are restored and the art of building them is taught. Transportation is then provided to a local boat manufacturer where modern methods of boat construction will be observed. Not suitable for children under 12. Advance reservations required. 252.728.7317. Fee: $10 per person. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com.

Sea Turtles of North Carolina

May 23, 12 p.m.

Only spending a brief time on land, sea turtles are quite different from most other turtles we know. From hatchling to adult, a lifetime at sea is no small task for these reptiles that grow so big. Learn about the different species of sea turtles that inhabit the coastal waters of North Carolina. Free Admission. No advance registration required. Walk-ins welcome. 252.728.7317. North Carolina Maritime Museum, 315 Front Street, Beaufort, NC 28516. www.ncmaritimemuseumbeaufort.com.

Round the Island Race

May 7, 8 a.m. – 2 p.m.

The Around the Island Race is a non-stop race around the Islands that form the harbor in Beaufort. All wooden traditionally rigged sailing craft are welcome. Traditional Small Craft Association meeting and continental breakfast at 8 a.m. The race committee will establish the race course to suit wind and weather conditions and announce it a skippers meeting Sunday morning at 0900 hours on the Watercraft Center docks. A representative from each boat must attend the skippers meeting. The start line for the race is between the dock at the Watercraft Center and a mark in Taylor's Creek. The finish will be on the beach across from the Watercraft Center. Chase boats will be escorting the fleet, but self-sufficiency should be the goal of each boat crew.
